*More about Rabbi Meyer:

Rabbi Margaret Meyer was born in New York City and raised there and in Canton, OH. She is a graduate of Miami University of Ohio, and has a M.A. with honors in English Literature from the University of Cincinnati. In her first career she was a high school teacher and later an English instructor at U.C.

Rabbi Meyer was ordained from Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in Cincinnati, in 1986, and has a Masters in Hebrew Literature and Doctor of Divinity from that school. She has served congregations in small communities throughout the Midwest and South, often commuting from her home in Cincinnati. In these communities, and in Cincinnati, she has always been involved in interfaith and social justice causes.

In Cincinnati Rabbi Meyer served on the Interfaith Committee for Worker Justice, is past president of the Metropolitan Area Religious Coalition of Cincinnati (MARCC), a past President of the Cincinnati Board of Rabbis, a former member of the Cincinnati Human Relations Committee and the City of Cincinnati Human Services Advisory Committee. She is a member of the Board of the Jewish Community Relations Council. Through her work in MARCC, together with Catholic Charities, she worked on creating the ID card in Cincinnati for undocumented and other residents who are unable to obtain other forms of official identification, and has volunteered as an English teacher to new immigrants.

She is currently is Coordinator of the Mayerson Mentoring Program at HUC, working with and mentoring students at their small community pulpits. She is married to Michael Meyer, Professor Emeritus at Hebrew Union College, mother of 3 children and grandmother of 7.
